On Thursday, January 20 Scotia Village recognized and honored those who made contributions to the “Building for Better Health” Aquatics/Fitness Center and Café Campaign. Through these donors Scotia Village was able to further its goal of providing senior adults with the resources they need to pursue healthy active lifestyles.

The campaign started in 2007 with the goal of raising funds to build a state-of-the-art Wellness Center for the residents of Scotia Village. The center includes an indoor pool, weight and equipment room, aerobics room, and café. Now in 2011 the center has been open for two years and has become an integral part of the community. Clarell Litchford, Executive Director said that “it is hard to imagine Scotia Village without it.” Not only does the center serve Scotia Village residents, but it also serves the greater Laurinburg/Scotland County community by providing a place to exercise for those in cardio programs or with advanced arthritis.

After a short program the donors who made the Wellness Center possible were honored with a plaque unveiling. “This project could not have happened without their support, we are very thankful for their contributions,” commented Clarell Litchford.
